Managing Director.

Notes to be aware of regarding the Frequency of cleaning required:

The need for specialist cleaning of kitchen extract systems will depend on the level of usage of the cooking equipment, types and quantity of cooking and other risk factors such as vulnerability of the system to ignition and of the building and its occupant/users to system fire, hygiene, vermin and mechanical hazards.

Typical cleaning should be visibly clean and capable of meeting the level of cleanliness specified. The frequency of cleaning should be adjusted by means of system testing (inspection and monitoring) so that surface grease deposit limits are not exceeded. The buildings insurance company should be consulted to ensure that the cleaning regime is compliant with the terms of their specific warranty. Regular cleaning will result in an improved mean standard and reduce the costs of cleaning as deposits are not allowed to bake and harden.

Periodic specialist cleaning should be accompanied by daily or weekly cleaning of canopies, filters and associated drains and traps in accordance with manufacturers' recommendations, typically carried out by the kitchen operator.

- Heavy Use 12-16 Hours Per Day - 3 Monthly
